TR	XMB	AIR	The airgram under reference reported the decision of Judge Isidore Dollinger on the motion filed in the New York County Supreme Court by some landlords and tenants in the vicinity of 67th Street and 3rd and Lexington Avenues, New York City, near the Soviet Mission to the United Nations, to force the New York City Police Department to remove the barriers on 67th Street between 3rd and Lexington Avenues and to forbid the Jewish Defense League, the Student Struggle for Soviet Jewry, and other organizations, from demonstrating in the general area. Judge Dollinger denied the motion to force the police to remove the barriers and granted the motion to forbid demonstrations in the general area, except that 12 demonstrators would be permitted to engage in orderly and peaceful picketing in the immediate vicinity of the Soviet Mission. members and those acting under their direction and control and in concert and conjunction with them be and hereby are restrained and enjoined during the pendency of the action from committing the following acts:

"1. Picketing or permitting picketing in the area, except that picketing is permitted in the immediate vicinity of the Soviet Mission to the U.N. by twelve persons in a peaceful and orderly fashion. Such persons, prior to gaining access to the immediate vicinity of the Soviet Mission, shall be subject to identification and reasonable search by the Police Department.

"2. Blocking traffic.

"3. Using amplified sound, creating deafening noise, engaging in loud chanting, booing, shouting, stamping of feet, clapping of hands, singing and sounding of horns, or making any menacing or obscene gestures directed at persons within the Soviet Mission or persons entering or exiting from said mission.

"4. Littering streets in the area."

The United States Government has 30 days from filing of notice of entry of order to appeal to order. This has not yet taken place but Assistant U.S. Attorney Milton Sherman has asked that a decision be made by August 6, one month from the time the order was signed. The Mission recommended in the reference that the order not be appealed and is awaiting the Department's decision in the matter.

It should be noted that there has been some picketing as permitted under this decision. For the most part the picketing has conformed to the order. The only exceptions occurred when members of the Jewish Defense League were arrested on June 23 for harassment and disorderly conduct during a demonstration on ~~MAN~~ 3rd Avenue near 67th Street. Later the same day, five J.D.L. picketers were arrested when they began shouting while picketing immediately in front of the Soviet Mission and then argued with the police when told to stop shouting. There has been no picketing at all near the Soviet Mission since June 30, probably because of the warm summer weather.
